

critically analyse the shift from caste based to multi-axis affirmative action in India with examples from recent state level initiatives such as sub-categorization and gender based reservations.

Answer

With the enactment of constitution reservation given to SC/ST on the basis of historical injustice.

than in 1991 on basis of backwardness reservation given to OBC. But gradually there is shift taken place. now, government is giving ^{reservation} On the basis of gender discrimination and Economical backwardness.

Caste Based

① reservation to SC and ST.

with the enactment of constitution. reservation given to SC and ST. for SC it was ~~for~~ to undo historical injustice, similarly for ST it was ~~to~~ to bring them in main stream.

② Reservation to OBC.

In 1980 Under the chairmanship of BP Mandal committee. recommended reservation for OBC people. which enacted by V.P Singh in 1991.

③ Formation of ^{EBC} ~~OBC~~ group.

The line drawn by Karpuri Thakur in 1978, Bihar government adopted in 2006. and did.

bifurcation of OBC in two group. i.e BC and EBC.

- Multi-axis. affirmative. action.

① reservation to woman.

In, 2006. Bihar government recognised the intersectionality. and did the provision for reservation to woman in local bodies.

after that in 2016 35% reservation given to woman in government jobs.

— recently, Government of India also passed reservation bill for woman. in which 35% seat is reserved for woman in legislature

② Reservation on the basis of Economic Condition.

with 103rd amendment act {2019} 10% reservation given
to economically weaker section.

- on the basis of regional backward-ness

in some institute and jobs reservation given to Northeastern people, ~~at~~ Kashmiri
and Ladakh people.

As Ambedkar
said "Reservation is not a privilege it is a remedy for centuries of structured exclusion".

So after giving reservation
on the basis of caste, govt.
recognised exclusion of women in the past. and did provision for them.

After the 75 years of independance inequality still persist in system. therefore there is demand for sub categorisation of SC and OBC.

Rohini commisson also formed for EBC reservation.

for the incursion of transgender and physically enabled person. system still ~~lack~~ insufficient to deal with their demand.

Although with various short coming government did ^{work} some remarkable ^{work} for social justice. currently the decision of ^{doing} a caste census after 1941 is one them. reservation to woman and Economically weaker people ~~kept~~ helped in the making of inclusive and just society.
